Personal Attributes

❖ Self-learning Ability

I learn most of the hard skills by myself out of school. I usually follow online tutorials, learn from stack overflow, and practice from creating personal projects using different stack.

❖ Creativity and Open-mind

As a creative individual, I have vital interests in UI design, UX, and audio editing. I usually follow online tutorials but build the projects based on my design.

❖ Hard-working and able to work under pressure

While at university, I once undertook six subjects in a semester. While during my internship at Netstripes, I always work one extra hour for my placement company.

❖ Perfectionist

I enjoy spending my time on coding projects until I feel fully satisfied, and I positively want people to recognize my efforts.
